REVIVALS CONTINUE "HUTCH" SHIFTS THE TO DRAW LARGE CROWDS

Services in All Albuquerque Churches Largely Attended and Many Conversions Are Reported.

The revival services being conducted at the various churches of Albuquerque continue to attract the widest attention and to draw increased crowds as they progress. There has been a deep interest felt in religious matters in Albuquerque during the present revivals and the church membership of the city is being added to.

Presbyterian Church.—At the first Presbyterian church, corner of Fifth and Gold, Rev. Mr. McCullough will preach tonight on "The Man Who Was Locoed." A pleasing feature of the services will be the music of the church choir, who will render the beautiful hymn "The Will Abundantly Pardon." At the services last night Mr. McCullough delivered a powerful sermon. An editorial in yesterday's Herald, entitled "Heathen and Religion," was read by the evangelist. The large crowd present listened with the greatest interest to the words of Mr. McCullough. The revival services at this church have been successful and many additions to the membership of the church are reported by the pastor.

Lead Avenue Methodist.—Rev. Charles Oscar Beckman will preach tonight at 7:30 o'clock, taking for the subject of his sermon "Future Punishment—What is It?" Mrs. Holmway will render solo and there will be congregational singing. Mr. Beckman's sermons have attracted the widest attention since the revival meetings have been in progress, and the success of his efforts is attested by the increasing size of the congregations.

Christian Church.—At the Gold and Broadway Christian church Evangelist Mark Wayne Williams spoke last night on "What Will You Do? A Prophecy," affirming that every man will have to treat Christ in one of five ways, either as Jesus, or Herod, or Pilate, or Caliph or Paul. A photograph looked and operated by E. M. Littleton, rendered familiar songs like "Throw Out the Life Line," "Beautiful Valley of Eden" and with the lights turned out, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Shall We Gather at the River." There were two additional songs. Mr. Williams speaks tonight on "A Banquet for Gods, A Diet That Needs no Cooks." This should be a very edifying sermon.

"HUTCH" SHIFTS THE TO DRAW LARGE CROWDS

Lembke Is Out of Game, and There Is General Changing About in Team; Wooldridge at End Now.

With Charles H. Lembke, manager, and one of the stellar performers of the University football aggregation out of the game, probably until next year, with a twisted leg, the Varsity boys are again in the middle of a bunch of real old fashioned hard luck. But they are not the least little bit discouraged. Coach Hutchinson has put Wooldridge on right end, and is trying out several new men in the line. Boons Gladding has been placed at tackle, where it is believed his weight and strength will balance well with Hamilton at the other tackle.

Coach Hutchinson has changed the entire style of play, used on the Varsity team. Before it was a question of getting fast men and heavy men into the back field, and having the line up as strongly as possible. Now, following the Princeton victory by means of punts and speed as the main tactical features, he has shifted to the plan of placing the best weighted men in the line, the most aggressive and best blockers, and concentrating on speed and gameness in the back field. Though it was kept carefully covered up in secret practice for several days it was known that the Arizona game would be an affair of punts, and yet more punts, but the secret has leaked out and the idea that Hutchinson expects to play out and out the same game that won for Princeton is spreading. That is a style of game for which the light and handy team of the University is preeminently fitted. Gladding and Collins will bear the majority of the punting, unless one of the men who came out late in the year shows up particularly well, when his known punting ability may gain him a place. Hunter will be back in the game in time to practice some before meeting Arizona, thus ending one streak of hard luck for the Varsity.

Several volunteers are assisting in the managerial work, which Lembke is unable, on account of his injuries, to attend to. The boys are out to get the $700 guarantee given Arizona from the sale of tickets alone, and without calling on the chronic subscription list. They deserve hearty support.

PROTECTION FOR ALAMO WATER TO BE ARRANGED

Otero County City Sends Engineer and Attorney to Make Arrangement With Foresters.

The city of Alamogordo is sending an engineer and an attorney here to arrange an agreement for the protection of the water shed supplying the city with water from bad sanitation, burning or cutting of timber or other damage. The watershed of the Alamo, which supplies the city with water for domestic purposes, is largely on the Alamo national forest, and thus comes under the direct supervision of the service officials here. It is the policy of the forest service to arrange whenever possible for the protection and reforestation of the forest areas comprised within watershed supplying cities with water. Under certain terms of agreement, thus protecting the municipalities from contamination due to bad sanitary measures, and assuring a permanent water supply through preventing the forests from being stripped.

The agreement to be arranged with the city of Alamogordo is something a little more strict than the usual agreement. Generally these agreements contain clauses causing the city to pay the major portion of any large expense, should these be made at the beginning of the protective work, and at all times to pay for the extra forest guards and rangers necessary to protect the forest in the thorough manner outlined by the service. This protection consists in enforcing rigid sanitary measures, as applied to persons engaged on work on the forest, or on ranchers living thereon, on preventing stock from contaminating the water supply, or protecting the water supply from silt due to erosion, and in preventing forest fires.

Forest Game Preserve.—The matter of turning the Pecos national forest, without injuring it as a forest, into a great game preserve has been agitated for some time past. Something definite in the matter is expected to result from a conference between District Forester A. C. Rimland and Dr. T. S. Palmer of the biological survey, who comes here Sunday. A great deal of discussion in regard to the matter will be held in the district offices next week.

LIMITED TO RUN IN TWO SECTIONS

Famous California Train Becomes So Popular That Equipment Will Be Doubled on January 1.

Because of the immense popularity of the California limited, and the consequent great amount of traffic carried by it, the Santa Fe authorities have decided to run that train in two sections every day, each section to consist of the standard regular equipment in use on the limited every day now. Only one section will be run on the days the deluxe train is run, however, because it is expected that this train will for a time at least relieve a portion of the pressure on the California limited, the one day in the week it will be run.

The limited today carried one extra car. It has been carrying from one to three cars daily for the past month in addition to its regular equipment, and they have all been full of passengers. Even with the extra car today there was not a single unsold berth on the train, and nowadays it is a common thing to hear the conductor tell passengers to get aboard and he will sell them seat space to Winslow or Williams or even Ash Fork, and that after that he will be able to furnish them a berth.

BODY OF N. KEITH SHIPPED TONIGHT

The remains of Fireman Frank A. Scott will be held until the arrival of a brother from Washington, when they will be sent to Chicago, Ill. The body of Fireman A. J. Daugherty was sent last night to Tucson, N. M., accompanied by a brother of the deceased, Joseph Daugherty. Daugherty was killed at the same time that Keith was, and Scott received fatal injuries in the same accident, dying after being brought here.

GIANINI BURGLAR IS BELIEVED TO BE CAUGHT

El Paso Authorities Holding Man Alleged to Be Same Who Took Certificates of Deposit and Watches.

Word was this morning received from the police department of El Paso to the effect that they have arrested and are now holding in custody a man named Robert A. Berg, believed to be the man who recently entered the room of Luis Gianini, in a South First street rooming house, and removed from a trunk a valuable watch and several hundred dollars in certificates of deposit. Several less valuable watches were taken. Shortly after the theft the police recovered the watch in Belen, and at the same time gained a strong clue to the job. The arrest of Berg in El Paso is the result of this clue, the police having notified police officers in surrounding cities of the affair.

Gianini's room opened on a porch directly on First street and was evidently entered from the porch.

BRAKEMAN THORNE TAKES TURN FOR THE WORSE

Man Injured in Scholle Wreck Failing and Hope for His Recovery Is Lessened.

Brakeman George O. Thorne, who was badly scalded in the wreck at Scholle on the Belen cut-off, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, is reported to have taken a sudden turn for the worse, and but little hope for his recovery is held out.

The other men injured in the accident are reported as much better. They are Engineer Ed. V. Pierson and C. H. Napier, Operator Roy Horton, Engineer V. P. Maloney and Fireman C. W. Schmidt.

No cause has yet been determined for the accident, nor is it likely that a complete investigation will be made until the injured men are able to participate in it.

TEST SALOON LAW IN COURT

Test Case Against One of 26 Indicted Saloon Keepers Being Held Today in District Court.

The district court this afternoon is occupied with securing a jury to try one of the 26 saloonkeepers indicted for selling or giving away liquor on September 6 last, under the occasion being that of the election of delegates to the constitutional convention. The charge is made that these saloon men failed to close their resorts all the time from midnight of September 5 to September 6 at the same hour. The saloonkeepers, who include among their number practically all the men and firms who were in business here at that time, were indicted nearly a year ago.

Antonio Ortiz, charged with assaulting Crescencio Chaz with the intent of killing him, and also of assault with a deadly weapon on the same person, was acquitted this morning in the district court.

Marijuana licenses have been issued to Clementina Montes and Francisco Chavez of Old Albuquerque; and to Avelina Mares of Albuquerque, and Nicolas Mares of Old Albuquerque.

A petition for a guardian ad litem to defend a case against Max Peres, indicted insanity, and committed to the territorial asylum, was filed today by the New State Lumber company, the plaintiff in the original case.

The Children's Home society today filed an answer to the tax case complaint, for delinquent taxes, filed against the society recently, claiming exemption on the ground of being a benevolent society, duly incorporated as such. The society seeks to recover the costs of the action.

At the session of the Bernalillo County bar association, no definite steps toward the adoption of the proposed code of ethics were taken, though the code was discussed at length. A paper by H. B. Cornell, on eliminating the judicial office from politics, was discussed by F. E. Wood and J. W. Wilson.

DISPATCHING BY PHONE ON RIO GRANDE

Southern Division Commenced to Use Late Method Last Night at Midnight; Line Works Well.

Another step in the Santa Fe's ladder of improvements was taken this morning at 12:01 a. m., when the telephone dispatching system was put to use on the Rio Grande division, from here to El Paso and Silver City. The line was finished several days ago, and the instruments, which had been installed along the route several weeks ago, were connected. The whole was then given a thorough trying out. The line worked beautifully. No weak spots were found, and every bit of the intricate apparatus, including the delicately adjusted dial selectors, were found in perfect order. Since its operation for dispatching and the transmission of train orders last night it has been found to work very well indeed, and the operators, especially those who have used the phone on other divisions, are well pleased with its performance. All divisions running into Albuquerque are now equipped with the telephone system.

The Santa Fe now uses the telephone, with one small break in California, from San Francisco into Kansas.

MORTUARY.

Mrs. Louisa Chavez.—The funeral of Mrs. Louisa Chavez was held this morning in the Sacred Heart church, burial being made in Santa Barbara cemetery. Mrs. Chavez was well known among her own people and in addition had a wide circle of friends among the best English speaking families of the city. Representatives of many of these attended her funeral this morning, so that the church was crowded alike with relatives and friends, and the people for whom Mrs. Chavez had worked for, in many cases, thirty years.

Mrs. Chavez was 68 years old, and leaves two children, a son and a daughter, as well as several grandchildren. Her death, which took place Tuesday, will be widely regretted.

The necessary fixtures are being placed as rapidly as possible, and it is expected that the new departments will be ready for inspection within a few days. The Economist management has selected its jewelry and neckwear stocks with the coming holidays in mind, and gift seekers will find all that is new in design and perfect in quality.

NATIONAL BANKING RESERVE FAVORED BY J. B. FORGAN

The Chicago financier believes it would add stability to the business and increase confidence of people.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leonard Wire) New Orleans, La., Nov. 22.—Plans for a national reserve, were the chief topics before the American Bankers' association today.

The proposed plan for a National Reserve association would place the banking and currency system of the United States in the front ranks of the leading nations of the world, in the opinion of James B. Forgan, president of the First National bank of Chicago, who addressed the convention of the American Bankers' association here today.

"Under the proposed plan," Mr. Forgan said, "the minds of the local depositors in our banks would be diverted from the small lawful cash reserves they individually maintain. Attention would be directed, rather, to the fact that the banks were affiliated with a central association, maintaining and controlling for them their lawful reserve and standing ready to supply them with its circulating notes whenever necessary. The plan suggested will, therefore, afford our banks the principal advantages of the branch making system, without surrendering their individuality of ownership, their interest in local affairs or the local control of their interest."

Mr. Forgan submitted a prospective balance sheet of the National Reserve association, based on the suggestions of former Senator Nelson W. Aldrich that the paid-in capital be $100,000,000, divided into 1,000,000 shares of $100 each, and that the minimum legal reserve be 10 per cent of net liabilities. Prospective surplus credited the association with a loaning or investing capacity of $25,000,000. Prior to this he had dwelt at length upon financial conditions here and in Europe during the financial crisis of 1907.

"How different from our method of meeting an emergency is that employed by European banks," he said. "In every country in Europe when banking system the National Monetary commission investigated, it was found that the practice is just the reverse of ours. They meet emergencies by expansion of credit by contracting it. They increase their loans; we curtail ours. They have facilities for so doing; we have none."

serve association's strength, he thought, would be its foreign bills and government securities, which could be increased or diminished according to needs. Another source of strength, which would develop as its business expanded, Mr. Forgan said, would be its accumulation of reserve money gradually finding its way into its vaults. Still another feature, he thought, would be the association's privilege to issue notes, "which will afford it proper protection for its gold reserves through its right to issue notes for circulation as substitutes for gold or lawful money."

"The demand for its circulating notes will fluctuate with the seasons. When crops are being moved, the demand for them will be at its height. At such times the banks will have to support their reserve balances with the National Reserve association, against which they may have currency shipped to them, by rediscounting their available paper. As the business demand for circulating notes develops, they will return to the banks and through them to the branches of the National Reserve association for credit on deposit. Simultaneously will mature the discounts on which the increased issue of notes was based." The lawful money reserve of the association, he thought, would be but little affected by its domestic business transactions.

Mr. Forgan closed with a resume of the evils attendant upon the present financial system in this country, and a prediction that the "National Reserve association would become the largest, the strongest, the safest and the best financial institution in the world."

The Markets

SPECULATION IN STOCKS LARGE

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leonard Wire) New York, Nov. 22.—Speculative interest in stocks lagged and movements were narrow during the morning. Except for the southern railroad stock in which further advances were made, the list was inclined to sag, although losses were not large. The lower scale of prices in London exercised a depressing effect at the opening, and although bear traders did not attempt aggressive operations, the demand was too limited to sustain the list.

Prices generally hovered slightly below yesterday's final figures and the pronounced strength of the southern group was without general effect. Reading and Lehigh Valley reflected a continuance of the recent pressure against them and there was little of interest in the movement of the copper stocks despite a further advance in the price of metal. Trade reports stating that there had been an all around reduction of $1 a ton in finished steel products since last week were without much effect on United States Steel, although it showed intervals of heaviness in common with other stocks.

Bonds were steady. Some of the minor southern and southwestern stocks began to rise strongly and later the speculation became more active and a larger Union Pacific advanced to 175 1/4 compared with 174 earlier. Reading to 152 1/4 and United States Steel to 64 3/8. Illinois Central showed a gain of 1 1/4 and St. Louis and San Francisco first and second preferred, St. Louis 22, Southwestern, Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific preferred and New Haven 1 to 2 points. Texas company continued on the down grade touching 74 1/2, a loss of 4 1/2. Union Pacific was in the van of a pronounced upward movement which gathered strength during the afternoon as the shorts began to realize that the rise was meeting with little opposition from the professional element. The stock climbed steadily to 176 7/8, or two points above yesterday's closing and the highest figure yet reached since the long decline was checked. The preferred was also unusually active and rose three points. Substantial advances were scored in numerous other stocks with the speculation showing increasing breadth.

The close was strong.

St. Louis Metals.—St. Louis, Nov. 22.—Lead firm, $4.27 1/2. Spelter higher, $6.70.

Chicago Grain.—Chicago, Nov. 22.—Wheat prices varied today almost wholly according to crop prospects in the Argentine, where the harvest is now in progress. The opening was 2-5/8 lower to a shade up. May started at $1.00 1/4 to $1.01, a loss of 1-5/8 1/4 to 1-1/2 advance, and sold as low as $1.00 5/8 1/2 3/4. The close was firm, with May 2-5/8 down to $1.00 5/8 1/2 3/4. Longs unloaded corn: May opened a shade lower to a like amount higher at 65 1/4-5/8 1/2 c, and sold to 65c. The close was steady, $4 7/8-9/8 for May; a big loss of 2-3/4.

Option sales on the part of cash houses made only one. May started unchanged at 20 1/2-1/4 and receded to 50c.

Provisions declined with hogs. Initial transactions were the same as last night to 10c down, with May delivery $15 1/2 to $16.50 for pork, $25 to $26.25 for lard and $3.50 to $3.52 1/2 for ribs.
